Ka Wahī Kaiaulu-

Wai'anae Neighborhood Place

Parenting is difficult for everyone; it is one of the toughest and yet most important job of your lifetime. Keiki don't come with manuals; each keiki is a unique and exceptional individual, full of promise and potential. Parenting is a challenging responsibility and cannot be done alone; no one should have to or be expected to. Being a good parent is an acquired skill; no one is born a "good parent".

Ka Wahī Kaiaulu - Wai'anae Neighborhood Place promoting safe keiki and healthy 'ohana.

Our focus is on ensuring the well-being of Wai'anae's keiki and their 'ohana, we coordinate awareness activities, educational workshops and forums and we enlist the community's commitment and responsibilities to our community.

We "talk story" to find solutions for difficult situations, address parenting concerns, life skills, outreach and home visits.

Striving to embrace parents by giving support, assistance and access to resources, and opportunities and encouragement to successfully raise their children.

Providing referral information of community service providers and other various resources.

We all have a role to play; each and every one of us has a responsibility in assuring a safe and caring community. Keiki do well when their parents and caregivers do well. And parents do better when they live in communities that actively support families.
